

What will I know by the end of the unit?

The names of the four countries that make up the UK and the names of the seas surrounding the UK.

The names of the four capital cities and some major cities in the UK.

The difference between human and physical features and facts about the physical features of the UK.

What makes the UK a special place to live.

The Royal Family

King Charles

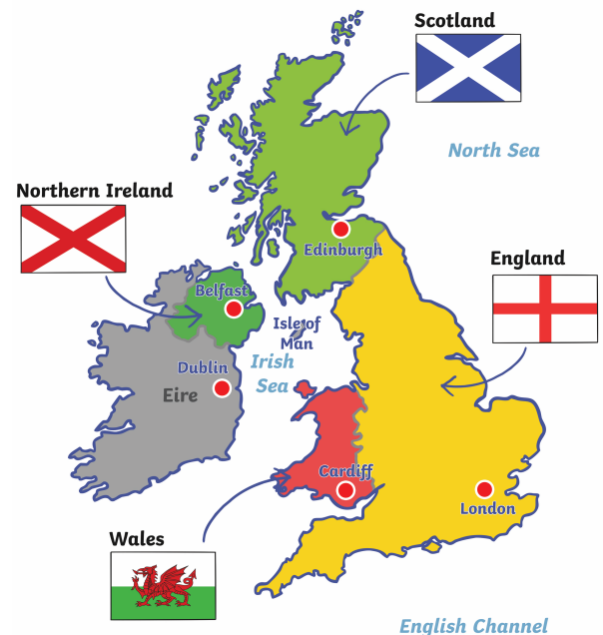

Queen Camilla

Prince and Princess of Wales

What are the four countries of the UK?

Vocabulary

|                   |  |                                                                                   |
|-------------------|--|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Landmark          |  | An object or feature that stands out in its area and can be seen from a distance. |
| Physical features |  | Naturally made features such as mountains, lakes, valleys, beaches and cliffs.    |
| Human features    |  | Man-made landmarks such as buildings, statues and bridges.                        |
| River             |  | A natural flow of water that leads to the sea.                                    |
| Mountain          |  | A rocky high part of the land that is steeper and higher than a hill.             |
| Lake              |  | Water that is surrounded by land. It is deeper and larger than a pond.            |
| Island            |  | Land surrounded by water.                                                         |
| Cliff             |  | Very steep edge of land usually by the sea.                                       |
| Forest            |  | A large area with many trees. Bigger than a woods.                                |
| Beach             |  | Sandy or stony land that meets the sea.                                           |
| Valley            |  | Low area of land between two hilly areas.                                         |

St Sebastian's Primary School—Geography

Locational knowledge

Year 1

Human and Physical

What will I know by the end of the unit?

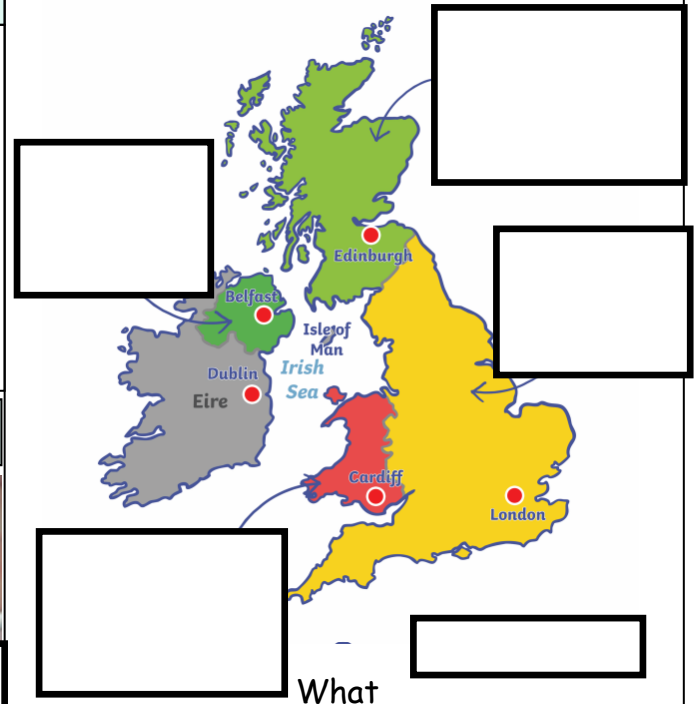

The names of the four countries that make up the UK and the names of the seas surrounding the UK.

The names of the four capital cities and some major cities in the UK.

The difference between human and physical features and facts about the physical features of the UK.

What makes the UK a special place to live.

The Royal Family

Vocabulary

|                   |  |                                                                                   |
|-------------------|--|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
|                   |  | An object or feature that stands out in its area and can be seen from a distance. |
| Physical features |  |                                                                                   |
|                   |  | Man-made landmarks such as buildings, statues and bridges.                        |
| River             |  |                                                                                   |
|                   |  | A rocky high part of the land that is steeper and higher than a hill.             |
| Lake              |  |                                                                                   |
|                   |  | Land surrounded by water.                                                         |
|                   |  | Very steep edge of land usually by the sea.                                       |
|                   |  | A large area with many trees. Bigger than a woods.                                |
|                   |  | Sandy or stony land that meets the sea.                                           |
| Valley            |  |                                                                                   |